The Presentation

For my presentation I chose to showcase Avgrund.js; a plug-in that allows for a more visually striking modal. The plug-in utilizes scale and blur to create a nice contrast between the normal page and the modal. A new addition allows the user to not only click the 'close' button to exit the modal, but to also click off the modal to return to the page. Avgrund is a great tool that can be customized to give any website a more professional feel.
